Dear Dr. Lederberg,

Milislav was not one to write a lot or to save a plethora of letters. He pretty much weeded things out when he moved to Brookhaven and again when he moved to Post College. However, a number of items were collected together, and Dr. Bell at American Philosophical Soc. library is the one who took charge of the items and indexed them. I have some minutes of various meetings that took place when Cold Spring Harbor was in transition (1960-1964) that probably should join this other material someday. Everything else is in Philadelphia, including I believe a bound copy of all of Demerec's papers and the annual reports for the years he was director.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Phil", written over the printed name.
